

STAKEHOLDER PARTICIPATION IN INTERNATIONAL RIVER BASINS: MODELS, SUCCESSES, AND FAILURES
*Oregon State University, MU Council Room
Corvallis, Oregon
14-16 April 2003*

Workshop Schedule

Directed by the concerns, needs, and expertise of officials tasked with public participation and/or environmental protection within an international water basin program, the aim of this workshop is to share and combine participant knowledge to improve the management of shared water courses. To accomplish this aim, academics, practitioners, and community representatives from around the world will share and combine their knowledge through a series of facilitated, multi-directional dialogues to contribute to building positive relationships across international borders.
